DISCUSSION POINTS

I. Relationships between available maps and Seven Ecological Principles Relevant to Wildlife Habitat and Its Conservation

--Roel gave a presentation on the basis for Conservation Commissions evaluation of resources, the data needs for those decisions, and the potential sources of data.

--The commission discussed a number of topics during the presentation including whether we could hire someone to enter data from previous project reports into the database, how to handle site visits and providing input to the Planning Commission, etc.

--A group of volunteers (Derk, Annie, and Linda) will review the areas of high public value and 7 ecological principles and identify which of the available maps are most relevant for each.
